Dear Senator:

The following is a direct quote from the April 16 issue of Time magazine, on how medicare will be paid for. "Approximately $5 billion a year will come from the voluntary premiums and from higher social security taxes for everyone; these will be more than doubled during the next two decades."

Although I realize that the medicare plan is almost certain to become law, I wish to urge you not to vote for this plan. I think most of this country can take care of its own without the government. This is just one more example of increased government control over the people themselves.

Yours Sincerely
